Ksenia Ovchinnikova As every year inches near the end, it is quite natural to think about what he brought us. For some of us, 2019 may have been a year of growth, self-fulfillment and happiness. For others, it may have been a time of heartache, setbacks and problems. But such are the natural ebbs and flows of life - no matter what the past holds, the future is always filled with promise. Just as we say goodbye to another year of ups and downs every December, we say hello to a new year of hope and opportunity come January, and start all over again. No matter where you are in your life right now, these New Year prayers will help you finish the year in peace, start a new chapter on a positive note, and set you on the path to hope. Keep them to heart as you go into another year with different goals and a new sense of focus. 1 of the 16 Thank you As Dawn breaks for the new year, let's thank you for everything we cherish: our health, our family and our friends. Let us omit our grievances, our anger and our pains, for it is nothing but a chain-link. Let us live every day in the most loving way, god consciously. Let us serve all who need it, regardless of race, color or creed. Let's keep God of our own understanding in our hearts and sing the name of God every day. Let us lead the world from darkness to light, from lies to truth, and from the wrong to the right. Let's remember that we are all one, embracing everyone, discriminating against none. Let your year be filled with peace, prosperity and love. May God's blessings shower you and give each of you a bright, healthy and calm new year.- Reverend Marcy Sheremet 2 of 16 Help us enter the New Year of God of all time, help us enter the New Year quietly, thoughtfully about who we are for ourselves and for others, remembering that our steps have an impact and our words carry strength. Let us walk carefully. Can we speak only after we've listened well. The creator of all life, help us enter the New Year reverently, knowing that you have endowed every being and plant, every person and habitat with beauty and purpose. Let's treat the world with tenderness. Let us honor, not destroy. Bottom of all souls, help us enter the New Year joyfully, ready to laugh and dance and dream, remembering our numerous gifts with gratitude and looking forward to the blessings still to come. We look forward to your generous love. In this new year, may the grace and peace of Christ bless us now and in the coming days.- Vinita Hampton Wright Offered by Douglas Ruschman 3 of the 16 Happiness in the year ahead of May Lord to make my New Year happy . . . Not protecting me from grief and pain, but reinforcing me to carry it if it comes. Not making my path easy, but making me sturdy enough to tread any way. Not taking difficulty away from me, but taking all the cowardice and fear out of my heart as I encounter difficulties. Not giving me sun, but keeping my face bright even in the shade. Not making my life always but by showing me where people and His cause need me most, and forcing me to be there and help. God, make my year happy.- From the magazine Guideposts 4 of 16 Comfort for the New Year Of Heavenly Father, At midnight, When the old year dies, And the new one comes charm in, I draw strength, knowing that in the next twelve months the Snow will goThe buds will burstGrech will riseThe leaves will fly, that all these things will happen According to your schedule! in your time; That there is order in your universe and that I am a part of it.- Van Warner 5 of 16 Learn to Walk About God's Unwavering Love, Trusting You, we dedicate our hearts to learning and our lives walking. Teach us the truth that we can walk with courage. Teach us mercy that we can walk with humility. Teach us to forgive that we can walk with compassion. Teach us grace that we can walk with force. Teach us to be surprised that we can walk with praise. Teach us the good so that we can walk with those who need it. Oh God of unwavering love, learn from you, we can walk well. Amen.- J. Bradley Wigger 6 of 16 Guided by God I believe that I am entering a glorious new year to be filled with prayer and praise. With service to God and humanity, with inspired creative activity. I believe that the presence of God goes with me, wherever I go this year, by train or tres or car or boat, walking slowly, or high in the air. I believe that his love shines in my body, his wisdom guides my mind, his world fills me with poise, his strength is always on my call. Oh, I believe it's God's New Year.- Elizabeth Searle Lamb 7 of 16 Expand the Eternal God Gift, You have given us the greatest gift: the gift of life. Next year, help us use it wisely. Will we grow in generosity, kindness and forgiveness, hope, faith, and love. Amen.- Rabbi Evan Moffic 8 of God's 16th Father's New Year, I'll leave myself in your hands. Do whatever you want with me. Whatever you do, I thank you. I'm ready for everything, I accept everything. Let only yours be done in me, and in all your beings. In your hands I appreciate my spirit. I offer it to you with all the love that is in my heart. For I love you, Lord, and therefore I want to give myself, to surrender to my own hands, without reserve and with boundless confidence, or you are my Father. Amen.- Charles de Foucauld 9 of 16 New Year with God the Lord, whether I leave behind a year of joy or trials and difficulties, I pause to thank. Thank you for being with me every day of every year. Thanks for being all new and for giving me the grace of fresh starts and new beginnings. Remind me of your presence in the coming days, even when I feel pushed and rushed to employment. Celebrate my life this year. Amen - Heather C King 10 of the 16th new season of Dear Father's Life, I thank you that throughout the season of life, there are endings and new beginnings. bless your Word, which reminds us that there is time for every purpose under the sky. So, I thank you for being in my life, and I bless you to new beginnings. In the name of Jesus, I pray, Amen.- Ecclesiastes 3:1 11 of 16 God walks with us Dear Father, You are the God of love, and I thank you that You are with me in every change and transition. I believe in your Word, which says: Lord Your God is coming with you. So as I enter this new season, I won't worry about uncertainty, but I declare your word that says I don't have to worry for anything, but throughout through prayer and prayer, I will make my requests be known to You.Amen.- Second Law 31:6, Filipinos 4:6 12 of 16 Prayer when you encounter change, I fight against changes so often. Settle in what is convenient and what is known. But I know you're doing something new. Thank you that even when things change around me, you always remain the same - faithful, true, trustworthy, and full of grace. Please help me know where to go and what to do. Show me when to say goodbye to the old and how to welcome new seasons and opportunities. Please remind me of your presence and help me be strong and courageous in knowing that you are with me. In the name of Jesus, Amen-Heather C King 13 of the 16 Short Prayers for Peace of the Lord, give me peace above all no matter the circumstances I may face this year. - Filipinos 4:6-7 14 of God's 16This Plan the Father, I bring all my plans for the year before you - only approve them if they are according to your plan for me. - Proverbs 19:21 15 of 16 Forgetting about my father's past, I choose to forget the past today. I don't want anything to hold me back from the good future you have in store for me. I choose forgiveness and ask you to help me with your Spirit move forward in all areas of my life. In the name of Jesus. Amen.- Joel Austin 16 of the 16 Beginnings of Heavenly Father, I'm going to embark on new endeavors as I face the end of this chapter of my life. So, I ask you to guide and guide me as I go through new challenges. Father, you're going to stay with me so I don't move away from you. You are my Good Shepherd, and I am your sheep; so help me keep my eyes fixed on you as I trust you in all things. Give me the provision for everything I need in order to begin this new journey, through the guidance of your Holy Spirit. Thank you Father, Amen.- Psalm 22:11, John 10:11, Jews 12:2 Andrew Bengie / Getty Images Open C tuning is a lot of fun to play. When the guitar strings open in the C strumming setting, it sounds like a C main chord, but it sounds a lot deeper and fuller than any C main chord you've ever played before. This tuning uses a very low sixth string to give the guitar a big, full sound. Because of this very low sixth row, and depending on the guitar, you can find after tweaking the guitar to open the C that your open sixth string rattles a bit. When you put your finger flat through all six rows on any fret and move it around C the main chord is transformed into different basic chords (depending on that bother you keep down). PRO TIP: The first line (E) is the line that gives this setting a core sound. If you want to experiment with a little customization, try setting up the first line on E instead of E-it gives you an open C minor setting. Start by setting the sixth line down two full tone note C. Check the note against the third fret of your fifth line (also C) - they should be the same octave note apart. Then set the fifth line down the tone to the G. Check the setting against the open third line G (the same octave note from each other). Your fourth line should drop the C tone. Your third line doesn't need to change - this G.Your second line actually needs to be configured to half-ton note C. Once you set it up it will sound like an open fourth line octave up. Your first line can be left alone - it's E. Once you've taken the first pass when setting the strings, you'll need to go back and fine-tune each line (changing the line setting can really affect the setting of the other strings as the overall neck strain changes). Once you think you've got it, listen to the MP3 of this setup and make the necessary adjustments. The song tab in this tuning friends is a track from Led zeppelin III. Excellent song with a few interesting parts, all in open C. It will take some practice, but you get it! Highest - This page and factory melody uses the bottom strings in the open C setting to create a nice full guitar sound. Sister Awake - Canadian band The Tea Party is another group that makes extensive use of open settings. This track uses the open strings of this tuning as drone strings. Once you're comfortable with the setup and played around with a few songs, you can dig in later. Guitarnoise.com has put together a good resource for studying different chord shapes in Open C. Over on YouTube, Bobby Crispy has put together a video lesson with some simple ideas on using open C tuning to create great sounding guitar parts.
